

Nobel Peace laureate and South Africa's favorite cleric, Archbishop Desmond Tutu, called for COP17-CMP7 action at the "We Have Faith – Act Now for Climate Justice" concert and rally he hosted at the King's Park Stadium in Durban on Sunday the 27th of November 2011.

"Apartheid seemed an overwhelming challenge that could not be defeated but we mobilized and defeated it. We need the same passion and determination to defeat climate change," said Tutu.
